Looking for ways to stimulate discussion in your class? It can be a challenge to incite participation in a traditional classroom, let alone in hybrid, flex or fully online classes. In this discussion-based workshop, you'll learn and experience how colleagues across the campus have succeeded in increasing participation in their courses.